Chairperson's Report

Hello Members,

Life has totally changed for most of us with the escalation of the Coronavirus. For myself it has been a rather pleasant experience in some ways. I have had a chance to read some of my books, look at a bit of astrology, do some meditation, yoga and contemplate my navel. Fortunately, the thirteen books and DVDs I had booked out the library stay with me for approximately six months.

I read a nice quote on Facebook today – “In the rush to return to normal...we may want to use this time to consider which parts of normal are worth rushing back to”. – Dave Hollis

Getting back to astrology, it does not appear at this point in time, that we will have any live events for this year unless there is a miraculous recovery from the virus. We are contemplating using Zoom or some other platform to allow individuals to tune into event in the eastern states, but as yet we have not negotiated anything definite, but will keep you informed.

If you want some interesting reading on the COVID-19 in relation to astrology, I recommend looking at Steven Forrest latest blog “Pluto, Eris, and the Evolutionary Meaning of COVID-19”. It’s a great article and his website is www.forreastastronomy.com. Eris is approximately the same size as Pluto but takes 559 years to orbit the sun.

Hopefully you are all doing okay with the current restrictions and have enough toilet paper and tissues to last a while.

Best wishes,

Jeff Farrow
